NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

En obsequio a nuestros numerosos amigos de habla española y para beneficio de los lectores americanos del Times que desearan una lengua, publicamos diariamente esta columna en castellano, con un extracto de las más importantes noticias de última hora.

Un conocimiento práctico del español es de grandísima utilidad en este país, especialmente en el comercio; como lo demuestra el hecho de que en Los Angeles solamente hay más de 15,000 personas que estudian ese idioma con profesores oficiales o particulares. Para esos estudiantes será un buen ejercicio leer todos los días esta sección, donde encontrarán las palabras y frases más usuales del lenguaje español.

Noticias de Washington
WASHINGTON, julio 9. — Uno de los puntos de controversia en el próximo período del Congreso va a ser probablemente la legislación que disponga la inspección gubernamental de la industria hulla, como resultado de la recomendación hecha por la Comisión del Carbón.

La ley de "la historia pura" dada en Wisconsin ha recibido buena fe por parte de la Revista Histórica Americana, que es el órgano de la Asociación Histórica Americana.

G. B. Winston, de Chicago, ha tomado posesión de su cargo de Secretario Ayudante de Hacienda. Jacques Pierot, Jr., Presidente del Banco Hipotecario Marítimo Internacional de Rotterdam, hizo hoy al Consejo de Navegación una oferta para comprar los barcos de acero inservibles del gobierno. Los funcionarios con quienes habló le manifestaron que, hasta la fecha, ninguno de los barcos clasificados de modo definido en esa categoría, y que, por otra parte, el Consejo no había tenido aún ocasión de estudiar la cuestión de vender a extranjeros para que estos aprovecharan el material viejo.

CLEVELAND, julio 9.—William R. Day, antiguo Magistrado asociado de la Suprema Corte de los Estados Unidos, falleció esta mañana temprano en la casa de MacKinnon, Michigan, según informes recibidos aquí por sus dos hijos, los señores William L. y Luther Day. Se celebrarán los funerales el jueves, y el sepelio se hará en Canton, Ohio.

Fred Barr Electo Vicepresidente de Fogoneros y Maquinistas

CLEVELAND (Ohio) julio 9.—Fred Barr, de Houston, Texas, fue elegido aquí, en mitin de hoy, vicepresidente de la Hermandad de Fogoneros y Maquinistas, por la Junta Directiva. Barr sucedió en su puesto al difunto vicepresidente O. W. Karn, de San Francisco.

Los Despatcheros de Treno
CHICAGO, julio 9.—La Asociación Americana de Despatcheros de Treno, por conducto de su presidente, ha presentado una solicitud al Consejo de Trabajo Ferrocarrilero de los Estados Unidos, pidiendo un aumento de jornal para los primeros despatcheros y los despatcheros aprendices de los sistemas ferroviarios del Ferrocarril del Sur, el Texas y Pacifico, y el Missouri Pacifico.

También los Conductores Discuten sobre Peticion de Aumento

NOTAS LOCALES

Héroe de la Guerra que Lucha por
Quedarse con su Novia
Jack William Votoni, cuyo pecho juvenil está constelado de numerosas medallas que le fueron impuestas por actos de valor en los ejércitos belga e inglés, se apartó ayer para la mayor de sus batallas, pues han sido descubiertos en reciente escapatoria y su matrimonio secreto con Laura Elaine Canfield.

Votoni tiene 22 años, y es "extra" de cine. Gana $1.50 diarios representando papeles secundarios en escenas de muchedumbres. Su novia es hija del difunto petrolero y minero millonario, Charles E. Canfield, y única heredera de bienes valorados en más de $1,000,000. Tiene 18 años de edad.

La familia Canfield se halla muy disgustada y amenaza con gestionar la nulidad del matrimonio, pues no quiere tener por aliado a un actor de cine a $1.50 diarios. La novia se ha pelado con su mamá, la Sra. Rita Jeanette Beale, habiéndose la primera marchado de su casa para ir a vivir con su joven esposo en un cuarto de la casa No. 1593 de Beach Drive.

Se Frenan un Plan para Evadirse de la Prisión
Ayer mañana se hizo fracasar en sus principios una de las más audaces tentativas que se hayan hecho aquí para escapar de la cárcel del condado. El alcalde Mark Bailey y los claustreros de dicho establecimiento interrumpieron el trabajo de los despatcheros de la prisión No. 16, que trataban de practicar un túnel para escapar. La única recompensa que tuvieron por su labor fue la de ser encerrados en el calabozo de la cárcel para esperar la probable demanda que presentará el Teniente Fiscal McCalland, acusándolos de fractura de cárcel, que es ahora una felonía.

Si bien los presos trabajaron con diligencia, no tuvieron tiempo bastante para terminar. No se dieron cuenta tampoco de que cada martillazo y cada golpe de cubello contra la argamasa se transmitían a través del viejo edificio hasta donde estaban los guardias. El Alcalde Bailey y sus hombres estuvieron al hecho desde el domingo a las 7 p.m. hasta el lunes a las 3 a.m., y los presos no se percataron de que el primer dedo que hubiera salido del pequeño túnel, habría sido el blanco de las pistolas de los guardias, que esperaban impacientemente que los perforadores concluyeran su sapa. Descubriese un Muelle de "Boat-ladders"

Cerca de un muelle que avanza varios cientos de pies en el mar, en un sitio solitario que se halla a la altura de la Punta Magna, cerca de Ventura, y a donde llega un viaducto de autos que cruzan un pantano, y que está provisto de un puente levadizo para interceptar el paso de intrusos, el Sheriff Clark, del condado de Ventura, apresó ayer temprano a cuatro sospechosos de tráfico en licor, que se dirigían al muelle en un auto con las luces apagadas.

FILM CROWD IN PANIC AT FIRE ALARM

Children Stepped on in Rush and Find Blows in
Across Street in Bakery

BAKERSFIELD, July 9.—Several hundred theatergoers were given a real thrill Sunday night when the clang of fire bells in front of the theater, at Baker and Kentucky streets, threw them into a panic as they were being held spellbound by a reel thriller at its climax.

Forgetting the spell of the silver sheet, the big crowd broke for the exits, only to find that the Bluebird Bakery, across the street, and not the motion-picture shrine, was on fire.

A rough several children were stepped on in the rush to the street; the panic did not result in any casualties.

Once outside, the surging throng was halted by policemen, who quickly put out the fire, and the followers of the silver sheet then turned their attention to the bakery fire, receiving a heat's worth of thrill watching the local fire department cope with the flames, which threatened to gut the heart of the East Side business section.

The bakery was destroyed at a loss of $6000, the flames rapidly licking up the frail wooden building in which it was housed, and which was sandwiched in between the G. A. Rankin Hotel building and J. A. Redfern lunch stand.

The Rankin Building, housing the East Bakersfield postoffice branch and J. A. Copper's shoe store besides the hotel, was damaged by the fire, which spread to the department cope with the flames, which threatened to gut the heart of the East Side business section.

Honolulu Sees Romance Begun in Los Angeles

PORTERVILLE, July 9.—Word has been received of the marriage of Miss Martha Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ackerman of this city, to Cecil B. Martin in Honolulu June 20. Mr. Martin is engaged as a teacher in the Mid-Pacific Institute.

The ceremony was performed at the Methodist Church of Honolulu, Dr. M. H. Aljander officiating in the presence of a few intimate friends. The bride couple were attractively attired in pongee, popular fabric of the tropics.

Mrs. Martin is a graduate of both the local grammar and high schools and also of the Ryke Institute of Los Angeles. During her study there the happy romance had its inception when Mr. Martin visited his mother. Last spring she left for Honolulu, to accept a position in the Girls' Industrial School of that city.

They are now enjoying a honeymoon in the mountains, and will return about the middle of this month, when they will be at home at 2545 Parker street, Honolulu.

Glendale Man Badly Burned in Stove Blast

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
REDLANDS, July 9.—W. M. Parker of Glendale is in the Redlands Hospital terribly burned about the face and head as the result of the explosion of one of the latest models of camping stoves. This was a distillate stove and when it exploded the flaming oil was thrown over his face and head as he was bending over the stove.

The burns were deep and it was feared at first that he had inhaled the fire but it is not thought now that he did. This happened far up in Mill Creek Canyon. Parker was brought to this city by a motorist who passed the camp soon after and taken to the hospital.

BOND MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Buyers Hold Off Until Price Reactions End

Usual Midyear Investment Not in Evidence

Week's Feature Bad Break in New Haven Issues

(BY A. P. WHEAT WIRE)

NEW YORK, July 9.—Failure of the usual heavy midyear reinvestment demand to make its appearance was the feature of last week's bond market. Absence of this support was attributed by bankers and bond dealers to the unsettledness of the securities market, prospective buyers apparently holding off until satisfied that the reactionary price movement which began in March had been definitely ended.

New offerings totaled $54,046,000, as compared with $22,185,000 the week before. Complete statistics for June show that the total of bonds, notes and stocks issued by railroad, public utilities and industrial corporations was $224,131,835, as against $249,058,000 in May and $354,356,940 in June, 1932.

Prices of listed bonds moved within extremely narrow limits during the week, showing a reactionary line in the first few days, but strengthened as the week progressed.

Buying support was most effective in the so-called speculative mortgages. One of the features of the week was the bad break in the New Haven Railroad issues, which was founded on the publication of the report of the joint New England Railroad committee proposing a recapitalizing of the road with an assessment on the common stock.

Market value of the $304,000,000 of New Haven bonds averaged less than 50 cents on the dollar, while the market value of the stock is a little over $15,000,000.

Investment bankers report that several large offerings are being held in abeyance until the market shows signs of further improvement. Two South American issues are likely to be floated here, in part at least, in the next few months, a Uruguayan loan, for which bids have been called and the Argentine refunding issues which may total $150,000,000.

In addition local bankers are interested in Canada's refunding program, which involves the retirement of about $172,000,000 of bonds on November 1, next. It is believed here that a large part of the new loan will be sold in London, because of the lower interest rates obtainable there, and an attempt will be made to sell as many bonds as possible in Canada. The balance probably will be disposed of here.

The largest offering last week was the $400,000,000 issue of Youngtown Sheet and Tube Company twenty-year 6 per cent debentures, floated at 91 to yield 6.03 per cent. Other issues were much smaller in amount, some of the more important being: $1,000,000 Alabama twenty to thirty-five year 4 1/2 per cent bonds at prices to yield 4.40 per cent; $2,500,000 St. Louis five to twenty-year 4 1/2 per cent improvement bonds at prices to yield 4.35 per cent, and $2,832,000 Trenton (N. J.) five to thirty-six-year 4 1/2 per cent funding bonds at prices to yield 4.30 to 4.35 per cent.

President of Big System Discusses Transportation; Business Conditions in Los Angeles

Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific System, who is here on a brief tour of inspection, in commenting yesterday on President Harding's Kansas City address on the transportation situation, declared that he has been unable to discover any specific statements in the text of the speech advocating the adoption of compulsory consolidation of the railroads of the country. "The President," Mr. Gray said, "referred to the problem of consolidation as one that had not been solved; but he made no direct statement concerning the methods by which the solution is to be attained."

"The trend appears to be toward legislative and administrative control," Mr. Gray said, "and so far as practicable the Union Pacific, as we stated at the Washington hearings, will co-operate. There are no broad economic benefits to be accomplished from consolidation, as we are willing to assist the governmental program if the country will be benefited as the legislators believe."

The attacks on the railroads and the multiplicity of remedies advanced for their betterment are deplored by the Union Pacific head, who characterizes them as emanating largely from uninformed sources. "All states of opinion against the Transportation Act are mere sophistry," he says, "because the act had not a fair opportunity to demonstrate its worth. Mr. Gray takes the attitude that it may be improved in time, but so far, it has been the means of accomplishing more than satisfactory results in a short period of existence. He agrees with the President's statement in the Kansas City address that the Labor Board for adjusting disputes between the carriers and the employees has not had a fair trial under conditions frankly acceptable to all interests; and that the board is in a position to function much more efficiently than any group of men handling similar questions."

Agitation against the railroads has been comparatively quiet in the last two or three years compared with the present tendency to berate the transportation interests, and in this interval, Mr. Gray points to the forward strides made in building equipment, in facilities, and providing more efficient service. If the next Congress will allow the carriers to proceed with their business without undue interference, he asserts that the expansion will continue with confidence, and the country will harvest the benefits.

Mr. Gray takes a sanguine view of the labor question. He does not anticipate a wave of requests for wage increases, but qualifies his statement upon the conditions prevailing when the present wage contracts expire from October 1 on.

Mr. Gray is accompanied by M. L. Haugh, his assistant, and H. M. Adams, vice-president in charge of traffic of the Union Pacific System.

Local Assembly

Plant is Plan of Truck Company

A plant for assembling electrical equipment is to be established within the next thirty days by the Canadian Truck Company, Ltd., of the Coast distributors of Wallingford, B.C. It was announced by the president of the company, Mr. Canavan, last night.

Mr. Canavan came from a visit to the West Coast of the United States to see the Truck Company's factory and to make arrangements with the local agents to supply the local market. The site of the new plant has not yet been decided upon, but the corporation has a number of desirable locations in mind.

"We decided on the establishment of an assembling plant in the West Coast," said Mr. Canavan, "because of the low freight charges."

BOLLES TO PLAN FOR CONVENTION

American Legion's National Adjutant Due Thursday

Interpost Council Arranging for Entertainment

Southland ex-Service Men Will Assemble

For the purpose of preparing definite plans for the national convention of the American Legion, to be held in San Francisco in October, National Adjutant Lemuel Bolles, one of the founders of this organization, will arrive in Los Angeles Thursday morning and will be the guest for two days of the Los Angeles County Interpost Council of the Legion.

County Commander Philip F. Dodson said last night that the national adjutant will be met at the station by committee members and adjutants of local posts of Southern California, and will be entertained at a luncheon at Long Beach on Friday.

On Thursday night legionnaires of all posts of the county will assemble at the rooms of Los Angeles Post No. 4, in Disabled Veterans' Hall, 200 South Hill street, for a social gathering.

Commander J. W. McKinley of that post has invited all legionnaires and ex-service men of the southern division.

On Friday morning Adjutant Bolles will confer with Los Angeles legionnaires and will be the guest of the Los Angeles County Interpost Council.

While here he will be in conference with Maj. Andrew J. Copp of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who is chairman of the American Legion committee for the entertainment of delegates en route to the legion's national convention.

Adjutant Bolles is considered the legion's most important executive officer. His home is in Seattle. It was Bolles who, in the infancy of the legion, obtained the franchise for the first division. France decorated him with the order of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. Four national commanders have appointed him as national adjutant, and under his administration the legion has grown to a membership of 1,500,000 men and women.

Arrangements are being made by County Commander Dodson to include members of many civic and social societies in the entertainment of this national officer.

FIGHTS TO KEEP HIS RICH BRIDE

fields were. The name of Canfield didn't mean anything to me. Good lord! I didn't marry the girl for her money. I didn't know she had a penny. We don't want any of their money. I may be earning only $7.50 a day—when I'm lucky enough to get a part in a picture—but we are living on my salary and we are happy."

Votion said he did not aspire to become a motion-picture actor. He has other ambitions. He wants to be a "proper" boy, and from that position he wants to work up from the ground floor in the technical end of the industry.

BRIDE IS HAPPY
The young married couple were found at the Beachwood Drive address. She had but little to say about her elopement and the reported quarrel with her family. She said she was happy, and that nothing else mattered. She admitted she left her mother's home quite suddenly, but denied she had been threatened with estrangement.

"Mother didn't learn until a few nights ago. I have not seen her since. She telephoned to father—they are divorced, you know—and he got angry. I don't know what he thinks. I have not seen him yet. I soon expect to, though."

Her grandfather left an estate valued at $3,700,000. To four daughters and a son, the multimillionaire left $1,000,000 each. To an adopted daughter he left $100,000. The son is Charles O. Canfield, the father of Votion's bride. In the will the best education obtainable for Laura Elaine Canfield was provided for, and it was understood that she was to inherit all of her father's fortune in the event of his death.

Other members of the Canfield family who, it is believed, do not favor the girl's marriage to the motion-picture actor, are her aunt, Mrs. Casper Whitney, Mrs. Dorothy Chesedine, Mrs. Elaine Himes, Mrs. Caroline C. Spalding and Mrs. Daisy Dangler Moreno, who recently married Antonio Moreno, a motion-picture actor.

Votion modestly declined to tell of his war record.

"They think I'm a fake, so we won't talk about it," he said.

But his war adventures were found in the newspaper files. He is the son of Charles Votion, general manager in the Near East for Purina, Wilby & Co., shippers, with offices in New York. Until last December his home was in Antwerp, Belgium.

GETS INTO WORLD WAR
In 1914, at the age of 14 years, he attempted to enlist in the Belgian army but was rejected because of his youth. He ran to England, falsified his age, became a "private, full-blown" and, incidentally, one of the youngest soldiers in the World War. He was wounded at Leos in 1916 and invalided from the army. He returned to Belgium, joined the Fourth Lancers, became an aviation machine gunner and was twice again wounded. He wears the Belgian Croix de Guerre with palm, the Cross of the Order of Leopold, the British Military Medal, the Merit Star and other decorations. He speaks French, English, Dutch and German.

Jackie Coogan's father then appeared on the huge set.

"Please don't dock my $7.50 for talking to this chap, Mr. Coogan," said Votion. "I need the money."

The plumed guard ran back to his sentinel box at the gate. Once again the army marched by.

meant at the Arcade Station the public would enjoy approximately the same facilities as to seating capacity and concourse, as that provided by the union terminal in Denver.

In the opinion of Mr. Williams, South Station in Boston, which long has been considered the country's model union terminal, was built far ahead of its time, and particularly designed for interurban traffic. Commissioner Altheimer said Mr. Williams had agreed on the above mentioned points, but was of the opinion that the station already has been outgrown.

CITIES BAGGAGE FIGURES
Touching on the point of baggage facilities, Mr. Williams stated that during the last year the St. Louis station handled 1,000,000 pieces of baggage; the Northwestern station in Chicago, 1,100,000 pieces, and the Southern Pacific station in this city 699,165.

He was unable to say what amount would be added to the number of pieces that would have to be transferred to the Pacific Electric, on through tickets.

The Commissioner did not appear to take kindly to the idea of the Pacific Electric building a new station perhaps 1000 feet south of the Arcade Station. He pointed out that this would cause many passengers a walking distance of no small consideration.

In commenting upon stations in general Mr. Williams said that during the first ten days of June the local steam roads brought 41,300 passengers into the city and that only 800 of them transferred from one station to another.

He said that the transfer of passengers to show how many of them transferred from the three steam roads to one of the other of the Pacific Electric stations or to interurban cars at street crossings in the city.

H. G. Weeks, transportation engineer of the State Railroad Commission, finished his testimony in support of the Plaza Terminal yesterday by announcing that the Arcade Station, as it now stands, cost the Southern Pacific only $440,000, and that there is no likelihood that the station could be made to accommodate even two roads for a considerable period. He declared that freight-traffic movements on Alameda street alone lately have increased 113 per cent.

ENGINEER GIVES ADVICE
Harry Hawgood, well-known civil engineer, was the city's last witness. He discussed the need for a union terminal, and gave it his opinion that the grade-crossing problem could be solved without the construction of a union terminal at or near the Plaza. He called attention to the fact that such a program as has been outlined by the city does not seem unreasonable, owing to the rapid growth of the community.

Engineer Weeks stressed the same point, and said that the various public utilities had stood in their own light of late by failing to make development programs in keeping with the pace at which the city was growing.

EL PASO GETS ART PIECES

Wishes of Late Collector Carried Out in Transfer of Collection from Exposition Park

Collections of serapes, blankets, painted tapestry from Milan and Venice, and a large number of initial letters and pictures, mostly of Roman Catholic subjects, all invaluable from an art standpoint, will be transferred from the museum at Exposition Park to those at El Paso, in accordance with a stipulation in the will of Festival Henderson, who died in this city more than five years ago.

The collection, by Mr. Henderson, was loaned to the city of Los Angeles until El Paso should have a suitable place to house it, providing that should be within ten years after his death. At such a time the rare pieces of art were to be claimed by El Paso.

Adolph Hoffman, curator of the El Paso Museum and secretary of the Pioneer Association there, arrived in Los Angeles last week to supervise the transfer of the collection to the southern city, after testifying to the effect that El Paso was now in a position to provide suitable quarters for the art treasures.

Included in the collection are twenty-two rare Navaho and Mexican serapes and blankets, and also seven larger pieces of fine painted tapestry, the majesty of which were obtained by Mr. Henderson in Italy during his extended world travels. According to Mr. Hoffman, it would be impossible to name the value of the collection, but he stated that in his own travels through many countries he had seen no finer collection of the work of a single artist.

Mr. Henderson also bequeathed $25,000 for the construction of a swimming pool at El Paso, a home city before coming to Los Angeles.

Dimmitt, will give a recital of fairy music. A program of South American folk songs with illustrations of the same will be given by Miss Thea Harrison, the University of California girl composer, and Miss Mildred Shannon, a white housewife at the university. Miss Harrison and Miss Shannon will appear in South American costumes.

The aspirations of the little community theater on the exposition grounds were told by Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Hensley today. She said: "I am eager to bring the Latin American musicians and artists and actors of Southern California in closer touch with their craftsmen of other nationalities here through the theater, which is open to everyone, and in which the performers give their services."

Everything which goes to make up the entertainment given daily in the Women's Auditorium represents the free offerings of time and services of the artists who are contributing to it. No one connected with the Little Theater is paid for his services.

THE STAMP COLLECTOR

The Chilean government authorized a special issue of postage stamps to the expense of the collector. This was done at the recent Pan-American conference at Santiago and incidentally cover the official expenses of the same. Practically all of the stamps were taken by collectors because it was known that the issue was small and limited. Now the government is disturbed because the citizens had no chance to use the stamps and is contemplating a special issue, one that the populace is getting a whiff at. This will make the philatelists properly sore, as the value of the stamp is impaired by numbers. If the issue is two or three times as great as first intended the value to collectors is reduced several hundredfold. If Lenin should have 100 stamps printed bearing his picture done in red ink he could dispose of them to collectors for more than if they were printed in black. The 1,000,000-ruble note and several of the smaller denominations of the world have had dealings with stamp collectors that netted considerable profit at a trifling outlay.

Within fifty years of the time when people were doubtful as to the advisability of extending our frontier to the northwest part of what is now the United States, proper frontier had been moved up to the northwestern tip of the continent. As Oregon's agricultural resources were in earlier times underestimated it is probable that those of the Alaska of today; and it is likely that if the man in the President's chair in 2033 journeys to Alaska he will then find there the same stage of advancement that greeted Harding in the regions of the mouth of the Columbia and the Puget Sound this year. RAINMAKING
Popular Science Monthly has been devoting considerable space to airship experiments in rainmaking. It says: "Dr. Wilder Bancroft, professor of physical chemistry at Cornell University, and L. More in detail, Dr. Bancroft explains: Drops of moisture in the clouds are kept on coalescing either by being charged electrically and therefore repelling each other or by being covered with a film of condensed air that acts like a gelatin capsule. Spraying with positively charged sand will

Rooms in House

Political enemies who wrote threatening letters to F. A. Dato, Mexican politician and former governor of Lower California, were finally picked up. The letters were found in a room in the house of the Dato family, which was damaged by fire last night.

Mr. Dato received several anonymous letters, making threats on his life. Sunday he was in a hurry to go to San Diego, and he left only to his wife and daughter, Mrs. Cursula Vasquez, who was left alone in the house.

When not awakened by the fire, which was started by a candle, the Dato family was in a state of alarm. The fire was discovered by a maid who found smoke coming from the room.

The fire, estimated at $15,000, was due to a large number of candles, which were burning in the room. The fire spread to the walls and the furniture, and the Dato family was forced to flee.

TUNNEL FRANCHISE TABLED

Utilities Board After Hearing Opposing Arguments
Decides to Wait for Application

After hearing various arguments as to whether or not the Los Angeles Railway should be granted a franchise to run cars through the Second-street tunnel, the Board of Public Utilities adjourned yesterday afternoon without taking definite action. Remarks by Walter R. Lewis, president, and other members of the board indicated that no definite action will be taken until the Los Angeles Railway applies for a franchise.

Various petitions were read. One from the Automobile Club of Southern California, protesting against street-car tracks being permitted in the tunnel. Another, from the Business Men's Co-operative Association, prayed for the tracks. Another suggested that the matter be held in abeyance until completion of the tunnel.

NO APPLICATION
After the petitions had been read, President Lewis stated he did not believe any action by the board was warranted until the Los Angeles Railway had made application for a franchise. He then asked George J. Kuhrt, general manager of the Los Angeles Railway, whether the corporation contemplated making application for a franchise.

Mr. Kuhrt replied that the corporation had not definitely contemplated such application and stated that it was immaterial to whether the tunnel was to be run through the tunnel. He said if the people want it, his company is ready to install it, and if it is not wanted, it will be all the same to him.

John A. Griffin, city engineer, was the last to speak. He said he is unalterably opposed to permitting street-car tracks through the tunnel and stated that he wanted to see the tunnel as being used for anything but automobile traffic. In response to a question he stated that it is not feasible to have both street car and automobile traffic through the tunnel.

BUSINESS MEN SPEAK
Edward Winterer, representing the Business Men's Co-operative Association and the business interests of the northern section of the city, urged that street-car lines be permitted. He stated that some people think only in automobile terms and in so doing they are making from the wrong premises.

He pointed out that the purpose of bringing people into Los Angeles. He pointed out that at least five times as many people would be brought into the city by the street cars as by automobiles.

Mrs. M. D. Gleason, one of the most active in the campaign for the building of the tunnel, said that she concurred most heartily in the remarks of Mr. Winterer. She said that it is wrong for the Automobile Club to oppose the tunnel.

Charles A. Nimocks, Santa Monica for Last Two Years, Dies in Old Home City, Minneapolis

News of the death in Minneapolis Saturday of Charles A. Nimocks, formerly one of the proprietors of the Minneapolis Journal and Detroit Tribune and for the last two years a resident of Santa Monica, was received here yesterday. Mr. Nimocks was 51 years of age.

Until his retirement from active business fifteen years ago, Mr. Nimocks was one of the best known newspaper publishers in the Middle West. In 1888 he and his brother, Walter A. Nimocks, now living in Los Angeles, acquired control of the old Journal and guided its destinies until their retirement nearly a score of years ago. During that time the newspaper kept pace with the growth of Minneapolis and today is one of the most progressive and largest daily publications in the Middle West. In addition to his newspaper work the late Mr. Nimocks worked for many civic programs that aided in developing Minneapolis. He was known as the father of the modern park system of Minneapolis and held various public offices during his long residence there.

Mr. Nimocks resided with his wife, Mrs. Nimocks, in Santa Monica. He was survived by his daughter, Mrs. Dean B. Gregg, of Santa Monica. The trip back to his old home on which Mr. Nimocks was stricken was due to sickness in his family.

Besides his daughter in Santa Monica and his brother, Walter A., he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Frank Hancock, of Hillsdale, Mich.; a son, W. R. Nimocks of Minneapolis; another brother, Frank E. Nimocks of Minneapolis and a sister, Mrs. Iva F. Murphy of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Nimocks will be buried in Minneapolis.

WIFE DECLARES MATE USED ROUGH TACTICS

BEAT, CHOKED AND CHASED HER WITH KNIFE, SHE SAYS

Disclosing a record for withstanding punishment which few pugilists could boast, Mrs. Frances L. Arbanes filed suit for divorce yesterday in the Superior Court, in which she painted her husband, Mitchell N. Arbanes, as a veritable cave man.

Scarcely had they been married, Mrs. Arbanes asserts in her complaint, before her husband started in on a campaign of cruelty and physical punishment. He threw her out the window, beat her head against the walls and choked her until she became black in the face, she asserted.

On other occasions she charges he beat her on the floor, beat her with his fists until she bled at the nose and choked her with a butcher knife. After inflicting these cruelties upon her, she said, he left her verbal abuse and tongue lashing were her portion on many occasions, Mrs. Arbanes states, and were so numerous that she said she could not list them all in one complaint. Her mother managed to save her from many beatings, but was always on hand, the complaint avers.

VON SHOWS SETS TO VISITING DENTISTS

RECENT DENTAL ADVANCES DEMONSTRATED BY DIRECTOR

The advancement of dentistry in the last decade was shown a group of dentists attending the American Medical Association convention in San Francisco, when members of the party were guests of Erich Von Stroheim, who is directing "Greedy," a film version of "McTeague."

The story is set in San Francisco about fifteen years ago, and the principal character is McTeague, a cheap dentist. The visiting dentists were shown the dingy office rebuilt for the picture, with its clumsy apparatus, lack of sanitation and antiquated equipment.

The visitors were shown through all the sets by Von Stroheim, and the members of the cast of "Greedy," including Gibson Gowland, Zasu Pitts, Jean Hersholt and others.

NOT-GUILTY PLEA MADE IN SLAYING

Boatwright Will Face Trial August 22 for Felix Beasley's Death

A plea of not guilty was entered yesterday by Thurmas Boatwright, accused murderer, when arraigned before Judge Reeve in Superior Court. His trial was set for August 22.

Boatwright is accused of the murder of Felix Beasley, Beasley was killed on May 19, last, while riding with Boatwright and his wife in their automobile. The body was brought to the police station by Boatwright, who stated at the time that Beasley was killed by a hand hit when he disregarded the latter's commands. The prosecution, however, has advanced the theory that Beasley was killed by Boatwright in revenge for a beating which he had received at the dead man's hands some years ago, while both were in Texas.

"Well, to make a long story short, I got me a treatment of Tanlac and today I'm a well man. I can eat and enjoy anything I want, have a ravenous appetite, and nights I sleep like a baby. I owe my good health to Tanlac and I can't say anything too good for it."

FUND CAMPAIGN FOR UNIVERSITY

Drive Will be Conducted August 6-13

Part of Money to be Used for Hospital

New Library and Expansions Are Planned

The $10,000,000 endowment and development campaign of the University of Southern California, $500,000 of which already has been pledged in pre-campaign subscriptions, has been set for the week of August 6-13, next. It was announced yesterday by Dr. Rufus H. Von Klein Smid, president.

A part of the funds raised will be used for the erection of a hospital where medicine, dentistry and nursing may be taught on the basis of a Class-A educational organization. The hospital, it is estimated, will cost $1,500,000, with an endowment of $2,000,000.

It also is proposed to erect a fireproof science building, to cost $500,000 with a $500,000 endowment. Physical, chemical and biological sciences will be taught in this building.

Among other expenditures a $1,000,000 library is proposed, and $300,000 in which to house the college of law. It also is planned to spend $200,000 for studios, recitals and practice rooms for music students.

Following the rapid growth of the university's college of commerce and business administration, plans are made to erect a new building for the purpose, to cost $350,000. A new structure to house social training and religious work, to cost $150,000, also is part of the proposed expenditures.

The campaign for funds also is to include $1,500,000, which it is proposed will be placed to the general endowment fund for use in paying the school's instructors better salaries. Surveys into further needs of the university have been made. Plans looking toward the meeting of them have been outlined.

NEGRO CUTS WIFE'S THROAT

Death Struggle Follows Conference on Divorce Proceedings in Attorney's Office

W. P. Wooley, a negro, at noon yesterday, slashed the throat of his wife, Naomi, ran down four flights of stairs in the Bryson Building and escaped while tenants of the building, horrified at the woman's screams, ran about the corridors.

When the woman, huddled in a corner of a fourth-floor corridor, who was dead. She had staggered twenty feet to the end of the hall and collapsed against the office door of E. C. Jennings, a negro lawyer, whom she and her husband had just visited to arrange for a divorce.

Jennings witnessed the first and last act of the tragedy. He did not see what transpired between the couple, whom she and her husband had just visited to arrange for a divorce.

The couple came to his office shortly before noon, he told Detective Lieutenants Adams and Stevens. They left after a conference and he set about drawing up the woman's complaint for divorce. Then he heard a scream and dashed into the hall. A short distance away the two were struggling. The woman continued to scream and he seized the negro.

The woman broke away and realized she had been hurt. He followed her, persons attracted from other offices said, but Jennings said he did not realize it at the time.

At 1470 West Thirty-fifth Place, where the woman lived, other negroes said the couple had quarreled a short time ago. A few nights ago Wooley came to the house and stayed about all night without seeing his wife. He returned again Sunday night, and was told his wife was not at home, although she was hidden in the house at the time.

The world premiere of "Ashes of Vengeance," Norma Talmadge's latest costume drama, will be given at the Apollo Theater, New York, August 6, according to word received by Producer Schenck yesterday from his eastern office.

The Apollo is a legitimate house, which was secured for the occasion.

"Ashes of Vengeance" is a love story of France in 1673 and was made up of nearly $1,000,000. It was directed by Frank Lloyd, with a cast of twenty-two stars and featured players, including Conway Tearle, Wallace Beery, Courtenay Foote, Betty Francis, Josephine Crowell, Andre de Beranger, Carmen Phillips, Hector V. Sarno and Kenneth Gibson.

Approximately $9,000 feet of film was shot in the making of the production. Director Lloyd is now in the last stages of putting, editing and titling the story which, when released, will be in ten reels.

The story was given a lavish setting, duplicated of a Parisian quarter of 1575, the Louvre Palace ballroom, several chateaux and a number of magnificent interiors being designed by Stephen Goosson. Norma Talmadge, in "Ashes of Vengeance" is shown wearing fifteen costumes of the period, designed by Walter Israel, trimmed with pearls, jet, diamonds and other costly gems from the Talmadge collection.

SEMON IN CHICAGO TO MARRY, SAYS RUMOR

FILM COMEDIAN DENIES IT AND COLLETTA RYAN IS EVASIVE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) CHICAGO, July 9.—Larry Semon, film comedian, was in Chicago today from California "to take a lady to lunch." He said so himself, and the lady is Miss Colletta Ryan, prima donna of a musical show appearing at a loop theatre. Reports that the couple are to be married before Semon returns to California were denied.

"I have not asked the lady to marry me," the film star said. "I have only asked her to lunch. In fact, that is what I came to Chicago for."

"Will she return from lunch as Miss Ryan?" he was asked.

"I believe so. I tell you I have not asked her to marry me."

"When you return to California next week, will you go alone—and single?" his questioner persisted.

"I'd rather you would ask Mr. Semon," was her only statement.

Semon and the musical comedy star have been friends for some time, according to members of the company in which the latter is playing.
